“ King Charles of Charliedom. The Great White Thunder. Charmander. Our sweet Charlie passed away on March 15, 2024, in the arms of his mom and dad. The last face he saw was his mom telling him she loved him.

He came into our lives after spending the first five years of his life locked in a garage.

He bonded to us right away, even sleeping in the bed with us on his first night.

We got him during Aurora's sabbatical, and when she returned, they became great friends.

When her kittens were born, he was the doting uncle and playmate to them all. Heimdall became attached to him before he could walk.

He was there when I was in the hospital. He was there when Brian had his car wreck. He was there when my mother had a stroke and I needed comfort.

We will miss his demanding his breakfast. His meowing for attention even though he was already getting attention.

The last 9 years we had with him were not enough.
