“ Oh Leo, this is my love letter to you. I know I told you all the time, but I must tell you I love you once more. I'm so happy for all the memories we made. From the time you were a puppy, I knew you were special. How many dogs can learn to throw themselves down in protest? I'm glad you learned that. Do you remember when you carried that stick around for a month? Or when you destroyed every football? You even destroyed one last Thanksgiving. I'll never understand why you howled at the Law & Order intros. But you sure seemed to like it. I'll miss that. I'll miss our morning coffee. I'll miss all of it. I'll just miss you. We all will.

I hope you'll visit me in my dreams. I'd like to play with your feet again. Or rub your nose and between your eyes. I hope I see you soon. Mama loves you.
