“ Luke was all of our best friend.. He was the first dog we ever had and we practically begged our parents for him.. Well, turns out they didn't realize how much they needed a dog either, and boy did we get a good one.

He was such a sweet boy and never gave anyone issues, just wanted love, and loved he was... It's been a long road for him and he's loved as much as he can give, and there's only so much hurt you can go through before making these tough decisions that certainly can never be made alone. Luke will always hold a special place in my heart; he truly was my first actual life long best friend and he'll always hold that special place. Rest In Peace, to our sweet boy. 💔

I hope he's playing tug of war in heaven with Bailey with an old torn up rope 🥹

It wasn't long after we got Luke that the movie Marley and Me came out and our puppy Luke was also a pistol!!! I remember having to have Paul put up a shelf for the stuffed toys that were missing eyes and noses (poor Webkins). He matured, though into a wise and gentle sweetheart and he is missed.
