“ Myah, baby girl, you are missed everyday. Pampa and I have a special place in our hearts for you that will always be there. Sometimes God sends his Angels in many forms to love, and share someones life unconditionally. That was you baby girl, you were sent from God to share lifes journey with a very special person, our son, Roger Burdg Jr. You gave him your "All", by that, if anyone knows Roger, they know his loyal "Best Friend Myah". There is no other bond like they had, and always will be in their hearts until they reunite in Heaven. Speaking of hearts, you were a very special person ... if Myah wanted you to be her friend ! Myah didn't trust many people, it took her time to get to know her Mama Jessica, but once she did, she loved her so much, couldn't wait for Jess to get home from work. The joy that Pampa & Nana have are the memories of Myah, especially at our cabin. Early mornings, sneaking in bed with us, rubbing her little eyes with both paws when she was still sleepy. I used to read in early mornings, she would sit beside me, I read outloud to her, I know she knew every word. She was the smarted Angel Baby ever, God gave her that ability too. God has asured me Myah will be in Heaven when we get there, and boy oh boy, she better have Nana lots of "Sugar". Roger & Jessica may God heal your pain on this sad journey.

“ Miss Myah Burdg
6/24/11-5/19/25 (8:05am)

My Myah, was my best friend from the first day I got her. 5,011 days. I drove over 3 hours to McPherson, Ks. to get her at exactly 8 weeks old. I had already picked her out from a photograph sent via email. I had my ex wife, and her two sons along for the ride. It was a great three hour drive back. She stayed tucked in the crease of my arm the entire ride back. I wouldn't let anyone hold her! I know that was selfish of me, but she was purchased for me, by my ex wife. From that day forward, Myah and I were best friends. I divorced my ex over Myah. She was jealous of her, to the point of a verbally abusive relationship. Myah was not fond of any women from that point forward. Then she finally bonded with my mother. It took her a while to open up to Jessica as well, but boy let me tell she loved Jessica! She loved all her family for sure. Chasen and Chloe each got to spend quality time, and bond with her when each one lived with us.

Myah was a sassy little Queen. Or should I say daddy's little princess. She loved to be boisterous, and when she gave you a RoooRooooo , it was serious! Loved to give her Pops kisses on command. Everyone else had to try and pry them out of her and still probably didn't get one. Haha! In Florida, she loved to chase lizards on the big back deck. Little fast lizards, big iguanas you name it she would chase them down.!! She wants caught a bird when she was probably six months old. She came back to me and was standing there, and I could tell she had something in her mouth, come to find out it was a bird. Her and I went through a pretty rough patch of about five years, but we stuck together and if it wasn't for her, I don't know where I would be today. She was such a bundle of joy and always by my side right next to me wherever I walked around. If she wasn't, she was on the back of the couch or on the edge of the bed, staring me down, not taking her eyes off of me. She was truly one of a kind. I've said for years she's my best friend. She's also my little soulmate. She truly was. We did a lot of things together. She used to come to work with me every day at two different jobs I had. She was a trooper for sure. She loved bedtime and to get into the bed with me right by her side. Unfortunately, in August 2024, she was diagnosed with diabetes. It completely wrecked our world, but we took the bull by the horns, and I learned everything I could about the disease and how to help her in every way I could. It was very difficult and very challenging, but we worked at it together. I got bit hundreds of times over the last year. Lol. But I would do it all over again for her every time. Myah was loved (in different ways) by everyone she met. If you left the house for 10 minutes, when you come back it's just like she hasn't seen you in a week, she's just as excited to see you again. She was truly one of a kind. I will miss her until my last breath, and then we will be reunited once more.

“ These are just a few of the photos I have of Myah over the years. She was such a good girl, even if she was grouchy! I’m going to miss her barking every single time I would get to the house, even if I had just left for a few minutes! Love you my-my ☐
