“ Nikki you were one of the sweetest dogs on this earth. And a big part of this family I think you were the only dog my mom liked to tell the truth. It's going to be weird going to aunties and Uncle Leo's house and not seeing you run around with the others. Now you're up there keeping Grandma Company. Just know you will be greatly missed by the whole the family. Love you Nikki!

“ Oh little Nikki.....we are going to miss you. I will miss asking your mommy how and what you are doing. I bet you a running around with your ears pinned perfectly back to the wind. You were so little but such a BIG part of our family. We are all going to miss you. Send your mommy a sign that you are still with her in some way. Love you Nikki!

“ While you could not speak the words,
I could hear the whispers of your voice.
Telling me it was time to go,
to celebrate your life and rejoice.

You decided it was time to go and find your resting ground.
You lay down your tired head and went without a sound.

In my heart I know you loved me,
as much as I loved you.
I pray you've found the peace,
that's helped to see me through.

I thank you for all the joy in my life and the smiles you've brought to me.
May God guide you on your journey and may your spirit always run free.
