“ Yoka was the best girl. She loved her family and her home. She loved to chase the rabbits out of her yard and she was the best at it. She loved to sit in her mom’s lap and get belly scratches after dinner. She loved her boyfriend Randy and waited to see him at the front door every night. You were his baby girl. She knew when he was supposed to come over. She was kind and gentle and her family will miss her deeply. There is a whole in our heart and she will never be forgotten. We love you Sissy.
