“ Zeus was a really good boy who always had a smile on his face. He was the first to greet you at the door when you came home, especially if you had a pizza or McDonald's. His ability to circumvent barriers to get at food was legendary and his desire to eat was only exceeded by his ability to stealthily remove food from tables, cabinets, and trash cans. Zeus provided our new dog Yogi with an immediate fast friend and Susan and I treasure the memories of him competing with Yogi in trying to be the first to fetch a thrown ball. Zeus will be missed by the Carneys and Murphys alike and I think by his feline family as well. Much love to you, Zeus, and may you rest in deserved peace.
